
Linking Futures Value Proposition

Linking Futures walks in two worlds, and through our wide-ranging capabilities, enable others to also.

Education and opportunity are the cornerstones of creating economic independence and empowerment of Aboriginal people. Free of vested self-interest, at Linking Futures, we use our authentic, robust methodology to create these opportunities for Aboriginal people.

Linking Futures has a Cultural Awareness and Cultural Safety curriculum called 'The Pathway to Cultural Immersion', and this forms the basis of our approach. Unique to the market, it is an integrated, modular curriculum comprising eight pillars, with each pillar comprising various modules.

We have a proven, structured, and reportable Community and Cultural Engagement Methodology, based on accountability, ownership and transparency, that can be seamlessly embedded into your project.

We have a HR Strategy methodology which forms the context for RAP development and refinement.

We bring Industry diversity, and have an enviable breadth of industry diversity in our team, with firsthand experience in:

- Building and Construction
- Utilities
- Aboriginal strategic framing
- All three tiers of government liaison
- Industrial Relations
- Organisational Psychology
- Program and Project Management
- Lean Integrated Project Delivery
- Value Procurement
- Hard Dollar and Alliance Contracting
- Environmental Stewardship

Our solutions are all wrapped in a robust and rigorous Governance capability, providing Cultural Risk Mitigation that ensures integrity for your project.
